People often tell us there's something about Cornman Farms that feels warmly nostalgic. Maybe it's our classic, lovingly restored red barn, or our picture-perfect white farmhouse, complete with porch and rocking chairs. Maybe it's the smell of fresh-baked bread pudding wafting out of our farmhouse kitchen, or the love and care shown by each member of our team. What matters most is this: you'll feel right at home here.

We know you won't get many opportunities in life to gather all your most cherished people in one place—so we take care of everything, giving you the chance to relax and be fully present for every magical moment.

Because at Cornman Farms, we want to be an important part of your love story. Your family story. We want you to come back again and again, for important milestones or just to say hello. Because once you host an event here, you become part of our story too.

An American icon, elevated. Our lovingly restored and modernized Red Barn, built in 1837, featured a stunning gabled roof. Nestled into the landscaped grounds, the Red Barn exudes rustic elegance. The lounge, located on the lower level, features leather seating, a double bar, men's and women's restrooms, fireplace and an outdoor patio. The rustic atmosphere provides an ideal space for cocktail hour, dessert and photos. The upper level loft features beautiful high ceilings with a gabled roof and large open area for ceremonies and receptions.

The best thing about having an intimate wedding was to be able to talk to everyone - friends and family that we don't get to see often. Not to mention the incredible care and attention of the people at Cornman Farms! They were so sweet and helpful from start to finish.
